Nominations sought for water conservation recognition

Do you know of a business, public agency or organization in Silicon Valley deserving recognition for its water conservation efforts? If so, please nominate them (or apply) for a Silicon Valley Water Conservation Award. Visit www.waterawards.org for more information.

Recognizing the primacy of water issues to the health and economic vitality of our region and to the environment, the awards are presented to organizations, agencies and businesses whose programs and leadership have advanced water conservation in Silicon Valley (San Mateo County, Santa Clara County and Alameda County from Hayward south).

Award categories are: Government agency/water utility, business, organization, agriculture, greenscape management, education and multiple benefit.

The awards will be presented on World Water Day — March 22. The coalition sponsoring the Silicon Valley Water Conservation Awards includes: Acterra, Bay Area Water Supply and Conservation Agency, Clean Water Action, California Native Plant Society, Joint Venture: Silicon Valley Network, Santa Clara County Creeks Coalition, Santa Clara Valley Water District, Sierra Club Loma Prieta Chapter, Silicon Valley Leadership Group, Sustainable San Mateo County, Sustainable Silicon Valley and Tuolumne River Trust.
